CITY BEAT

Band sliced up

THEY claim to be the Beatles of bakers.

But artistic differences appear to have led to the demise of Brumbys Bakeries house band Bread Zeppelin (aka Grateful Bread, Talking Breads and numerous other painful puns) with the decision of their lead singer to go solo.

The band, which has headlined numerous corporate charity events over past years with Brumbys' bread-loving boss Michael Sherlock starring on tambourine, will be performing a farewell gig in the Valley next month.
